COMPANY QUALITY POLICY

AircraftMaterialsUK.com Ltd is engaged in stockholding, procurement and supply of high tech and difficult to find materials for use in electronics, aerospace and medical industries from various sources matching customer's requirements (BS EN9120 Rev B; ISO 9001:2015). The board and senior management of AircraftMaterialsUK.com Ltd will ensure that the Quality Policy (including all applicable Quality Manual, Quality Procedures, Work Instructions and Company Policies) are clearly implemented, maintained and communicated at all levels of the Company and to any interested parties as required.

AircraftMaterialsUK.com Ltd is committed to a policy of Quality Assurance throughout the organisation specifically to ensure that the service provided and the product quality not only fully satisfies, but also exceeds, the contractual requirements and expectations of our customer, together with the standards of quality specified by statutory and regulatory requirements. This is carried out through a programme of measuring, investing and continually improving the effectiveness of the Quality Management System.

AircraftMaterialsUK.com Ltd's approach to quality is based on four principles:

- Conforming to the requirements and expectations of our customers and our own Quality Management System and ensuring that these are flowed down to all of our suppliers and providers.
- A system that focuses not only on identifying potential weaknesses in our system, processes and documentation and putting in place the necessary preventative actions to remove these, but also that constantly strives to further improve on the high standards we already operate to.
- Ensuring that the quality of service provided to our customers is a direct result of our people and our suppliers. It is therefore vital to implement both a clearly defined system of internal training, knowledge sharing and good working practises and a robust system for selecting top-quality suppliers.
- Focus on the measurement of all process outputs which is to be communicated across all levels of the organisation so as to ensure that continuous development and improvement can be achieved and rewarded.

This policy is to be reviewed at each Management Review and updated accordingly to ensure that it continues to reflect the core values of AircraftMaterialsUK.com Ltd as we continue to develop and improve.
